The Dungeons of Oddesia Await You

Welcome, adventurer, to a strange land. This is a world of magic, potions, alien masters and hidden dangers. But listen closely now, for you are the last hope of this once peaceful nation.

You are in the land of Oddesia. Summoned by the former king, you have been sent on a mission. Somewhere deep within the ancient dungeons of this broken land lies a sacred stone. This "ORA Stone" possesses the powers of life, light and happiness. Long ago, before the attack of the alien race that conquered and now rules this land, it was hidden deep within these caverns. The aliens still rule Oddesia with terror and violence. Strange and dangerous creatures occupy the underground labyrinth of the dungeons, wherein lies the stone. The alien King, Natas, himself searches for the Stone. He promises death to anyone that stands in his way.

Your mission is to find the ORA Stone, return it to the Oddesian people and restore peace to the land. But beware! The aliens know of your mission and are determined to stop you. If you must venture alone, then go! But hear my words, brave soldier. Consider gathering your friends in this gallant quest. Help each other to reach the ORA Stone. The hearts of the Oddesian people go with you!

Dungeon Explorer

...is a Multi-player Adventure Game, Set within a Subterranean Labyrinth

Dungeon Explorer is a multi-player adventure game that as many as five people can play simultaneously. For more than one person to play, you will need the TurboGrafx-16 Turbo-Tap accessory as well as individual TurboPad controllers for each person.

Game Structure

The game is composed of over a dozen individual levels in which a variety of dungeons, villages and castles appear. Each player takes on the abilities of a play character during the search for the stone—fighter, warlock, thief, etc.—and may fight the aliens and work together in the search for the ORA Stone. In the "conversation" mode you actually listen in on discussions between characters, obtaining clues and information that help in your search.

Object of the Game

Find the sacred ORA Stone and return it to Oddesia. Defeat the aliens that try to stop you.

Starting the Game and Registering Players

First, connect each player's TurboPad controller to the TurboTap accessory.

Next, insert your Dungeon Explorer game card according to instructions, and when the title screen appears on your television, push the RUN Button to register all participating players. Then, by following the procedure described below, perform Character Select or Password Input to decide which character you want to become in the game.

Character selection takes place at the bottom of the screen. Each player, using the Direction Key and Button I, selects MEMBER (Character Select) or PASSWORD (Password Input). No two participants may use the same character at the same time.

Character Select

Characters are reviewed by up and down movement of the Direction Key and selected by using Button I. Characters start with level 1 abilities.

Password Input

Use the Direction Key to input the password. It is possible to restart a previous game by using the password function.

Pausing the Game

During play, pressing the RUN button of any controller will pause the game.

Resetting the Game

During play, the game can be reset to the beginning by holding down the RUN button and pressing the SELECT button at the same time.

Operating Controls

During ordinary game play, the operating controls are as shown in the diagram. (If Button II is held in the pressed position, continuous firing of the attack weapons is possible). When one is in the Conversation Mode, it is possible to advance the conversation forward by pushing Button I.

Dungeon Explorer Screen Displays and Scroll

With several players, the screen may not scroll if different players are proceeding in separate directions. In this case, players should consult with each other and then proceed in the same direction.

When players have proceeded on to different screens (as will occur, for example, when a stairway is used), then priority will be given to the last player who exits the screen.

At the bottom of the screen is the status area. Here, levels and other information on each player are displayed (details appear on the next page).

Remember to always consider your direction before proceeding.

Condition Status

This display shows the condition of players one to five. Players are presented in order, starting with the block to the left.

Condition Display

During normal play the condition for each player is shown. If the RUN Button is pushed, the display will change as shown below.

A Kind of Character

B Hit Points
